

Everyday DC 2020: Alice Deal Middle School

Alessandra Tatton

In the Reflecting Puddle

The reflecting puddle shows us how middle school students reflect over who they are as a person

Jacob Freed

Brown Street

Brown Street in Mt. Pleasant, a historic neighborhood in D.C. and also one of the best because of its food and diversity.

Alexandria Sutherland

Kennedy Center

This is a picture of the ceiling of the opera house in the Kennedy Center. In D.C. there are a lot of events that are free and enjoyable.

Devan Tatlow

D.C. Realities

This image shows the contrast between the realities and pollution in D.C. and the coverage of shining skyscrapers.

Erin Rosebar

Dance Class

Ballet warm up in the studio,
in Washington D.C.

D.C. People and Places

This picture is of D.C. neighborhoods through the alleys to show the connections between D.C. people and places and showing how D.C. is not just a big city.

Joe Finkelstein

Crunch

Alice Deal students venture home to sit by the fire on a cold afternoon.

Olivia Hernandez

Avalon

The charm of old Hollywood comes to life at the Avalon Theater on Connecticut Ave.

Rachel Kolko

World Series Win
