

Interview Narration Planner

Listen to your recorded interview. Think about what introduction, background information, additional information, and conclusion you will have to add using voice over narration.

	Fill in what you will say:
Introduction: How will you open the audio? What information should you give about immigration BEFORE the audio of the interview starts playing?	Hello/hi/ welcome my name is _____ ...
Background: What do you think the audience should know either about immigration or about the interview before they listen?
Additional Information: Write down the question you asked (so you can keep track of where to add the narration) and then add the additional info you need to provide in the voiceover.
Additional Information: Write down the question you asked (so you can keep track of where to add the narration) and then add the additional info you need to provide in the voiceover.
Additional Information: Write down the question you asked (so you can keep track of where to add the narration) and then add the additional info you need to provide in the voiceover.
Conclusion: What message or lasting comment do you want to leave your audience with? Wrap up the interview voiceover.	