The one and only
Franco Garcia

(I took all the pictures)

What I regret most right now is not doing my school work as often as I should. I have a tendency to procrastinate; it's bad for me ,and I should do better—my grades reflect on it.

I wish him a good life. I wish Franco the bests of luck in whatever journey he wishes to go on and hope he gets to meet people that will support and love him in the future. I don't know what the future will hold but I hope he gets to travel the world and accomplish his dream.

Growing up it was fun, we were innocent, life was simple and fun. Playing outside all the time was entertaining, and we didn't worry about anything.

“I’m proud of being who I am.” I’m proud of all my mistakes and accomplishments because that’s what makes me who I am.

One of my hardest times was when I was nine years old and had surgery, I don't remember much, but I know I was scared and it hurt a lot for about a month. Thankfully my family stuck by and helped me out a lot.

Franco is very artistic and creative. Although he doesn't want to admit it he has passion for the things he does and never gives up until he accomplishes his goal. Sometimes he might seem lazy, but he's very sharp to notice the smallest details.

Franco is honest even when it might hurt. He is quick witted and always acts tough, but I know that he cares for everyone. He's a good role model and smart enough to make good decisions. That is what I appreciate most about him.

My dream job is to not have a job, be financially stable at a young age and be able to retire.

I want to be a computer scientist, computer engineer, or a nurse in order to help and assist those who need it.

I inspire to be someone who everyone looks up to and respects. I still have a long way to go, but I know I'll be able to accomplish it.
