ncmagamlit Open Your Ears and Eyes to Women's Inequality Globally!!!

Open your ears to hear the stories of women all over the world who fight for their rights and the rights of future generations. These women teach us how to be strong and how to overcome hardship. Open your eyes to the injustices faced and the prejudices placed in every day life. Do not be part of the problem, be part of the solution.

Donate, support, repost, do whatever you can to make this information well know and widespread. The NGOs on the last slide are in need of more people like you, who care about the word around them and people who want to be part of the solution.

We all hope that these stories have touched you and have inspired you to research about different injustices faced by women-- even the injustices put into place for future unborn generations. Corruption and inequality are engraved into global society but with a little hope, support, and funding these problems could be resolved.

AI Interpretation of Women's Body Image

Over the years AI has always tagged pictures of women as sexually suggestive. Also compared to males, females are more likely to be tagged. Images of pregnant bellies have been said to be “very likely to contain racy content” (Schellmann et al. 2023). Although this is not talked about a lot, this is a big issue.

What's Happening to pregnant women who live in rural Areas?

Data from the Alabama Department of Public Health shows the 2022 infant mortality rate by demographics.

Pregnant Colored women living in rural area are experiencing health care challenges. Alabama is an great example where pregnant colored women are not provided with good resources. One of the problems that they have is that they don't have access to public transportation. Because of this it was said that has the highest mortality rate,"36 deaths per 100,000 live births" (Sy,2023).
