

Found poems take existing texts
and refashion them, reorder them, and present them as poems. The literary equivalent of a collage.

A pure found poem consists exclusively of outside texts: the words of the poem remain as they were found, with few additions or omissions. Decisions of form, such as where to break a line, are left to the poet.

Directions:

- Watch your assigned 4-6 minutes episode of My Blood.
- Pay special attention to the time assigned to you.
- Use the words (plus ones added from you, if you like) to create a found poem about Living with Sickle Cell.
- Type your poem (don't forget your title) on the slide assigned to you.
