

After understanding how AI algorithms objectify or hypersexualize women's bodies, answer these questions via a sticky note:

1. Do you think AI is being equitable (fair) to women?
2. AI algorithms are overseen by humans, explain who was "in the room" to approve the algorithms to get the results we found and why you chose those people? (Be creative)
3. Using evidence from the article, explain how this quote: "People learn from seeing or not seeing themselves that maybe they don't belong," may affect how AI sees women.
4. In simple terms, what do you think is wrong with AI's algorithmic racy scale scorer

2. The people in the room were rich, overly powerful, sexist men. -AS

#2 If there was a white man and a black man "in the room" the algorithm will use racist themes. - LB

3. AI tells women they don't belong by telling them they are showing explicit photos when its just women showing their family's, freinds at the beach and ect - Valayla R

3. AI is basically telling women that having fun with their friends and wearing what they want is inappropriate. -AS

4. The AI is basically saying that men showing skin is totally fine, but is not the same for women. CF

#4 The AI Problem is that it learned men showing skin is tolerable but not the same for woman CO

#4 I think the problem with AI is that always is biased to women but no men, for example men can show skin but women can't.

4. There are a lot of things wrong with the AI racy scale. Shirtless men get almost nothing but girls in bikinis hanging out get up to 90% or more. AI objectifies women's bodies.

#4 I feel as though the algorithm has been fed all of societies biases against each other and isn't being given true info - LB

2. the people in the room were all rich white old men because they hold alot of power because of their money - Valayla R

2. The people in the room were all overly rich and overpowered, they, and they were sexist men.

#1 I think the reason AI thinks a woman's bra is sexual is because of the community we live in, most men only see women in sexual ways. - LB

2. It's unfair because it's only seen in the eyes of white men.

4. I think that old men are the ones that are making it unfair for women because they are the ones making AI sexist towards women, for showing baby bumps ect - ValaylaR

#4- AI's racy scale scorer is not fair to women as a women that is in a bathing suit should not be so high on the scale when a male with his swim trunks is low.
