

Sample 1

Note to a neighbor

I wrote the note for my aunt's sister in law because she lives in the apartment in front of ours, and she's also the only neighbor that has a family that I know in this neighborhood.

I wrote in the letter that she doesn't have to think that she's alone through this time, that there are people like her family or her loved ones that are there for her. I also wrote that the only thing that she should worry about is the wellness of her family (including hers).

I felt pretty good giving the note because if someone gives me a note like that it would be very nice.

What I learned from this experience is that giving a little bit of joy to others is good.

Be safe, [REDACTED]

I decided to write this letter to my neighbor from apartment [REDACTED] because she is a nice person and the only one who I talk to, I feel good about it because is nice when you share what you feel about others and you know that they would be happy for that... I felt nervous because I never do something like that before, only with my close friends. Finally, this experience teach me that you can change the mood or the day of someone with little details and I would do it again.
